

Human Subcutaneous Pre-Adipocytes | 300697

Human Subcutaneous Pre-Adipocytes are primary preadipocytes isolated from human subcutaneous adipose tissue. They can be expanded and differentiated into mature adipocytes, serving as a model for adipogenesis, metabolism, obesity, and diabetes research.